FIREPLACE MANTELS

THE INVITING WARMTH AND CRACKLING FLAMES IN A FIREPLACE NATURALLY DRAW PEOPLE TO GATHER AROUND THE HEARTH.

Historically, the fireplace has been an integral part of the home as one of its main features. Original hearths not only warmed the room, they were the hub of food preparation and family interaction. With today's modern floor plans and conveniences, the fireplace has evolved from its original purposes to become a prominent architectural element with a social function.

Within the open floor plans that are so popular today, a well-designed kitchen has become the central feature of a home. The kitchen and adjacent living spaces are combined, encouraging guests and families to mingle before and after a meal. Within that large, gathering space, the kitchen typically opens to a room featuring a fireplace mantel or an integrated entertainment center, and it makes good sense for these elements to match or complement each other. With Dura Supreme, your kitchen cabinetry, entertainment cabinetry, and fireplace mantels are all available in matching or coordinating designs, woods and finishes.

TIMELESS APPEAL

Carved corbels are the defining architectural element for this fireplace mantel from Dura Supreme. With its crisp, white paint and simple design, this mantel fits right in with its cottage surroundings. Dura Supreme's fireplace mantels can be selected with a variety of woods and finishes to create the look that's just right for your home.

Optional fluted column shown (Column "C").

TRADITIONAL ELEGANCE

Traditional Cherry hardwoods look rich and elegant framing a fireplace, especially when the styling and finish complement the cabinetry in the rest of the home. For this mantel, “Transitional” Styling was selected for the refined cove moldings used to create the mantel shelf. Decorative panels selected for the columns, blend perfectly with the cabinetry door style in the kitchen.

Mantel “C” shown in Cherry wood species with Cinnamon/Charcoal Glaze finish (Transitional Styling, Frieze “A”, Column “B”).

Optional “Classic Dentil” styling shown.

CRAFTSMAN STYLING

This craftsman-styled mantel from Dura Supreme is an appropriate complement to the bungalow architecture of this home. The simple molding details and linear elements of this mantel create a striking architectural focal point in the family room. Fireplace mantels from Dura Supreme can be designed to showcase the architectural style of the home.

The Frieze "D" option includes a carved "3-square" motif.

Mantel "B" shown in Quarter Sawn Red Oak wood species with Mission/Charcoal Glaze finish (Craftsman Styling, Frieze "B", Column "A").

A STUNNING FOCAL POINT

This stunning fireplace mantel from Dura Supreme features carved corbels below the mantel shelf. When “Classic” Styling is selected, the corbels feature an ornate, acanthus leaf carving. Decorative panels were selected for the frieze and the columns. Crafted from Lyptus wood species, the rich color and unique grain pattern create an elegant focal point for this great room.
